

Forbes

You Can Now Get Special Treatment At Hotels When You Fly Private

Nov 8, 2020, 05:29pm EST

Laurie Werner Contributor

Travel

I cover singular, luxury travel and food experiences around the world

A Tradewind Aviation Pilatus PC-12 landing in St. Barts – Tradewind Aviation

It's the perfect way to go on vacation: by private jet straight to an airport near your destination resort without going through multiple airports and changing planes. And to be given a reward for doing that by your chosen resort.

As travel began to tick back up during the pandemic it was often on private jets: that part of the industry surged, even among first time users, due to its added protection from COVID-19 infections as well as the privacy and convenience.

Not surprisingly, hotels eager to build their occupancy levels back moved to link with these companies and offer special incentives to guests. They're now fully in evidence as the winter season approaches.

For travelers heading to St. Barts, Tradewind Aviation offers private jet flights from anywhere in the U.S. to San Juan, transferring to the prop Pilatus PC-12 for the often nailbiter arrival on the island (flying in between two mountains and stopping just short of the beach in the most common approach). The company also has a variety of partners on the island, each offering specific extras to guests. Among them [...] An excursion on the water, a private yacht champagne sunset cruise is also the offer from the modern resort Le Barthélemy Hotel & Spa located on the same beach.